

Tank Cave Diver Bulletin

22nd May 2013

There have been a number of small changes to some of the lines & junctions in Tank Cave – Refer to Diagrams 1 and 2 below. These have also been noted on the map in the shed at the Tank Cave Site.

In the future, any new changes will be advised via this Official CDAA Notices section of the web, and probably a separate dedicated page outlining Tank Cave updates including maps.

- Snap and Gap at B4 converted to Jump.
- Snap & Gap at B14 converted to Jump.
- New Gold Line added through the SC1 (Shortcut) from A3 to A5 and SC1 becomes A4.
- There is now a Gold Line T at A3.
- From A3 along the original Gold Line towards the 90m room, the old A4 now becomes C0 and is the start of the Gold C Line section.
- This makes a “long” Jump (use two small jump reels at either end) between the new C0 and A5.
- Route between A4 and B2 via SC3 (SC3 now removed) has been reverted back to small jumps at both ends, discouraging its use. The distance of this “shortcut” to B2 is almost the same as through the bigger section of going via A5 & A6 and thus less impact on the smaller “shortcut” section.
- The line between D2 and D3 has been re-joined.
